Merchants "Trade-In-St. Cloud" Campaign Started

NON-VOTING PROPERTY OWNERS MEETING OVERFLOWED G. A. R. HALL MONDAY NIGHT

Most Interesting Address on Civic Affairs Delivered In St. Cloud Last Monday, When Plans For City's Future Were Discussed.

The largest gathering ever assembled in St. Cloud, responded to the call of the Non-Voting Property Owners Committee for a mass meeting of the property owners and voters of St. Cloud at the G. A. R. Hall last Monday evening. Some time before the hour for the address, the hall was filled to overflowing, while outside many people gathered at every window to listen to the remarks that were to follow. More than a hundred went away because they were unable to even get near the entrance of the hall to hear.

At 7:30 o'clock Dell Rickard, member of the Non-Voting Property Owners Committee called the meeting to order with a few brief remarks in which he introduced the various members on the platform and then the speaker of the evening, Col. H. R. Wood. Mr. Wood got right down to his subject without many preliminary remarks, and in part said:

The matter of taxation, as your chairman says, is of vital importance throughout Florida. The same can be said of any state in the Union. And for all times, taxation has been a problem to the human race, for if you will remember that one of the knottiest questions that was placed before our Lord was: "Should we pay tribute unto Caesar?" showing that even in those days taxation was a problem and an unsolved one.

And so it is with us here. There is no use in generalizing remarks, or trying to take in the entire scope of the world, or even Florida. We are all interested in just St. Cloud, it's problems, and as to what degree the financial problems of our city interest us. And there is nothing that interests the human race as much as any question that hits his pocket.

These gentlemen got together after some preamble, and decided that while St. Cloud had its sunshine and flowers, its climate and its scenery, all those wonderful gifts of nature bound together, bound together, did not equal in any way its volume of politics. And so we said, why get into a field we have no business in, thrust out in the old way those questions, inject ourselves in your affairs by contributing ourselves to this turmoil and vexation which has gone through every campaign? We said we will do nothing of the sort, we are not voters here, and consequently are disqualified from the start. For this committee, in the main, is made up of men who have no votes, but have real estate holdings.

Now, you may say, where do we come in? Why, we felt our position was this. After all, what is St. Cloud? It is a municipal organization, or corporation—that is all. It functions—his honor the mayor, is equivalent to the president of a corporation. His four commissioners are the same body of advisors as a president of a corporation has, but what he calls the board of directors. And then aside from that, there are dozens and hundreds of those who hold stock in that corporation, and they are known as the stockholders. Everyone here tonight who holds property in St. Cloud is a stockholder in the corporation of St. Cloud. And as a stockholder, we felt we had a right to be heard.

The city and the commission are supreme, they are handling the city affairs for you, and no stockholder has any right to go into a board of directors meeting, even though he may be a large holder of the corporation stock, and interfere with the duties of that body, but it is customary in all corporations for the stockholders to have their own meetings and present to the board of directors suggestions and plans, and offer to co-operate with the board of directors in the expansion or contraction, or whatever they want to do, as to their idea for the good of the main body, and that's what we ever hope to do. It is all we want to do, and I promise tonight, it is all we are going to do, we have a plan which we believe should assist your city government in unraveling this unfortunate financial condition we find ourselves in today. To that end, we drew up what possibly many of you saw on the back page of the St. Cloud Tribune of March 13th.

We have tried to be very careful in framing these seven resolutions. We have tried, as you see, to exclude politics from them. I believe you will agree with me that it does not show the handwork of a dreamer, that it does not show the iron fist of a communist. Rather it shows a hand directed by business heads for this is a business problem. A politician's thread is not running through it, and we do not mean that it shall enter into it. Now, of course, I presume, no matter what I say, some will misconstrue it, and if so, I am sorry. And if there are some here who will deliberately distort the facts, and go forth and make political thunder of it, then I am sorry for them. Our intention is right, no matter the outcome of this movement.

Reduce City Expense
The first thing is the reduction of the operating expenses of your city. That is dangerous, for your city government is here, and I am glad they are. We have no thought of bombing the works. It is the afire from our minds to interfere in any way in the functioning of your city. That's politics, but as business men, we believe that as President Hoover does not assume to be smart enough to handle the problems of the nation but gathers around him, not only his cabinet of eight brilliant men but brings to Washington the best brain of the nation to help him solve those problems, so we felt that in the reduction of the city's expenses that we might at least have the honor the mayor and the city commissioners, and in going through the budget as is, we could find some items that could be dispensed with, and make a saving to you. Far be it from me, for I have been an employer of labor for many years, to in any way decrease the small amount that the laboring man, who works for the city, receives today. His interests must be protected. After all, the matter we have in mind chiefly could not be helped by so doing.

To Solve Bond Problem.
The power plant with its wonderful personnel: We have no thought of dipping in and ripping out, but we do feel that in the end we were going to place the strongest measures on the solving of the bond problem; that confidence could be restored, if it is lacking in you, and strengthened, if you have it, by starting at the head, and showing by a sane reduction of the mayor's and commissioners' stipend, that if charity begins at home, surely economy should; and that the office of mayor had not entirely lost the old-fashioned dignity for which it has stood so nobly, and in such a great

Miami Newspaper Is Carrying Stories on Soldier City

Harry A. Bowen, of the Miami Florida Commercial, was in the city over last week-end, gathering data through the publicity director here on the opportunities and advantages of St. Cloud and Osceola county.

The Florida Commercial has been carrying the progress stories, as prepared by the publicity department of the St. Cloud commission, almost from the start of the intensive publicity campaign from this community. These reports have been of great value since so many tourists and home-seekers visit Miami first or last while in or touring Florida.

That, which few casual readers realize, visitors go straight to the papers of a city for their bearings on every phase of its life before making up their minds concerning any contemplated permanent move is well-known to publicity experts. Hence the stories of St. Cloud's plans for expansion appearing in the Florida Commercial are to be appreciated.

Arrangements are being made for a continuation of St. Cloud progress reports from time to time in this growing publication of the lower east coast.

Florida Forest Service Presents Free Movies in County

Announcement is made by W. R. Dunlap, representing the Florida Forest Service, Florida Forestry Association and American Forestry Association, that free moving pictures on forestry and fire prevention will be shown at the various schools in the county during the latter part of this week and the first of next week. The showing in each school will be at 5:00 p. m. The schedule for the showing of the picture is as follows:

Friday, March 21, Deer Park school.
Friday, March 21, Kenansville school.
Saturday, March 22, Holopaw school.
Monday, March 24, St. Cloud high school auditorium.
Tuesday, March 25, Kissimmee high school.

The picture, which consists of much fun, action, and interest is called "Partners," and was filmed in North Florida last summer. A cordial invitation is extended to the general public.

Everybody Loves The Rose, Osceola's Choice For County Perennial

Rose day will be celebrated by the members of the home demonstration club and other rose lovers of Osceola county, at the next session of bloom, presumably the second Tuesday in April.

Exhibits will be received at the community house in Kissimmee in the morning and will be arranged and judged as speedily as possible. Judging will be followed by an interesting and instructive program in the afternoon.

The aim of flower shows is to stimulate interest in raising a fine quality of flowers and arranging them artistically for all occasions. They give new insight into the neighborliness of gardening and serve to interest the community and the county as a whole, in more and better gardening.

Many roses have been planted this year, more than 1200 of which were put out through the home demonstration department of Osceola county. If this pace is maintained, Osceola county should soon have the distinction of being the leading rose county in Florida.

Plan now your entries for a big rose day for Osceola county. Detailed program will be printed next week. Watch for it.

SUNDAY CONCERTS DISCONTINUED

The Sunday afternoon concerts will be discontinued as so many tourists have returned north.

GOLD CARDS DISPLAYED IN THE WINDOWS OF MERCHANTS CO-OPERATING IN MOVEMENT TO DEVELOP TRADING TERRITORY OF ST. CLOUD

Murder Reported At Kenansville This Morning

A telegram to the office of Sheriff Farmer at ten o'clock this morning asked that an officer come to Kenansville at once to arrest Grady Moon, white, who was alleged to have killed Joe Scott, a relative of T. T. Scott, owner of the Scott Lumber Co., at that place.

Chief Deputy Young Tindall answered the call at once, but no details of the affair had been learned up to press time.

Joe Scott, a brother of T. T. Scott, was in charge of the logging department of the mill and Grady Moon was blacksmith for the same concern.

As the grand jury went into session this morning for the regular spring term of circuit court, the matter will have immediate attention.

The latest report received about the alleged murder was that it occurred several miles east of Kenansville and in an adjoining county.

Distinguished Visitor To Occupy Christian Church Pulpit Sunday

A distinguished winter visitor in St. Cloud, Dr. J. Wesley Johnston, D. Litt. D.D., of New York City, will occupy the pulpit at the First Christian church next Sunday morning and evening in the absence of Rev. Otis Whitehurst, who underwent a serious operation at a Tampa hospital last week.

Mr. Cowger holds a responsible position in the job department of a printing plant in that city.

The Cowgers have resided in St. Cloud for the past twelve years and have both been prominently identified with the work of the fraternal organizations and civic clubs of the city.

Final Nine Days of City Campaign Enlivening

Announcements of at least three political meetings to be held during the remaining nine days before the city election on March 29th indicates that the campaign will be very lively before the close.

Tuesday evening Mrs. Emma J. Raymond, candidate for city commissioner, will speak to the property owners and voters at the G. A. R. hall, the hour of the meeting being announced as 8 o'clock.

Thursday evening it is announced the Taxpayers Association will use the G. A. R. hall in the interests of Mayor Chase, Commissioner Pickens and Commissioner Wiley.

Friday afternoon Edward Partridge, candidate for mayor, will address a meeting in the G. A. R. hall and will be followed by another Taxpayer Association gathering in the same hall at night.

Saturday, March 29, being election day, the Friday night meeting will close the campaign.

At present there are seven candidates for two places on the city commission and six candidates for the one place as mayor. Unless some of these six candidates withdraw before election, a small vote will elect a mayor.

Lists of Those Entering Published In Page Announcement of Plan on Page Six of This Issue --- More May Be Added Next Week.

The Trade-in-St. Cloud campaign is off with a bang. A large number of progressive merchants are now giving Gold Card votes, and more are to be added to the list, as it has been impossible to get around to all before the list had to be made up for this issue of the paper.

The prize list headed with a Ford Roadster, purchased from and on display at the St. Cloud Motor Co.; second prize a Majestic Radio, purchased from and on display at Hill's Electric Shop; third prize, a $50.00 merchandise order on Persons Department Store; fourth prize, a wrist watch, value $30.00, purchased from and on display at Seymour's, is certainly arousing plenty of interest among the girls and ladies of this community. No list of the contestants can be published until next week as any number have not yet brought in their nomination blanks, but are working very hard to get their friends lined up to save their votes for them.

All contestants should bring in their nominations on or before next Wednesday, March 26th, in order to get in on that 10,000 bonus offered for the first 1,000 Gold Card votes secured by trading with the Gold Card merchants.

The list of the merchants now giving Gold Card votes will be found on the full page advertisement covering the contest in this issue.

If you have not made up your mind to get into this race be sure to ask for your votes, anyway, as you will have some very good friend entered who will expect you to save your votes for them.

KIWANIS BUSINESS STANDARDS

A very interesting paper on "Kiwani Business Standards" was read at the regular meeting of the Kiwanis Club by "Johnny" Schmidt, well known druggist. The paper was as follows:

In advancing standards in all lines of business and professional service, Kiwanians should seek to be men with a lively consciousness of what is right and wrong, men of a fine sense of honor, men who prize individual integrity more than individual gain.

Business should supply useful goods in an orderly manner for human needs at lowest cost. The production of material values is indispensable; the formation of human values should be equally compelling. To survive, business must gain a fair profit for commensurate service. To succeed business should give added service for community enrichment.

The various professions afford opportunity to strengthen honorable and helpful human relationships, and all members of the profession should strive by example and influence to preserve the high standards of ethical conduct against the attacks of all mercenary and commercialized interests.

To carry out the ideals of Kiwanis Business Standards—we must apply the following:—Honesty—fair competition—law and business—among our professions.

Honesty: Thou shalt not steal, either by old or new methods. Kiwanis urges a keener sense of fundamental honesty, and a more courageous application of the eighth commandment to business and professional evils. Kiwanis condemns the abuse of bankruptcy laws, cancellation of contracts without mutual consent, commercial bribery and misleading advertisements.

Fair Competition: Not merely the letter, but the spirit of fairness. Kiwanis should strive to eradicate not only those forms of unfair competition which have been branded unlawful, but also those countless weapons of deception and injury, which are so questionable as to conflict with the spirit of Kiwanis ideals.

Kiwanis specifically condemns such practices as slandering competitors hiring employees of a competitor to obtain trade secrets, price favoritism to special buyers, unfair disclosure of bids, glowing promises which cannot be fulfilled and hidden defects in merchandise.

Law and Business: Remember, Higher standards mean lower laws.

Business and professional men should voluntarily develop and impose upon themselves standards of conduct which are above just criticism, which will stand the full light of publicity and will tend to avert oppressive legislation.

Business and professional men should observe existing laws, and where vicious practices persist, should support new legislation to protect society. They should exert only a wholesome influence upon lawmakers to the end that present harmful legislation be repealed and that fewer and better laws be enacted.

To improve employment relations.

DEBATERS ENTERTAINED BY MRS. LEE

Thursday night the following students, as Mrs. Lee's guests, enjoyed the evening in Orlando where they saw "The Vagabond King".

Frances Conn, Madelyn Rode, Jay Johnston, Raymond Kennedy, Virginia Davis, Mary Parker, Willis Rosenthal, Rose C. Vent, Laura Daley, Woodrow Young, Mary Brice and Leora Mix.

This event closed St. Cloud high school's most successful debating season. ## EIGHTH GRADE

Ranoma Harvey and Morris Parker won the debate given by the eighth grade for the eighth grade civic class. They were on the negative and debated against Marion Conn and Mary Parker.

Marion Conn and Mary Parker were the winners of the debate in the eighth grade section two. They debated against Laura Daley and Louis Coleman. The winners of that debate debated against the winners of the other room.

We are all glad to see Mrs. Moench back after a long illness. While she was sick Mrs. Dawley taught for her.

Miss Adams intends to visit friends and relatives at Daytona Beach during the week-end.

JUNIOR CLASS

The junior class has launched two new projects an effort to complete the junior-senior banquet fund. Until next Tuesday juniors are soliciting magazine subscriptions. On April 7 a comedy, "Two Days to Marry", will be given. The class hopes that the town people will support the activities as they have those of the past.

SCHOOL FACULTY TO PRESENT PLAY

The faculty announces that they are now ready for their play. This play will be put on in the high school auditorium Tuesday night, March 25th.

Monty's father died one year ago leaving Monty $20,000 with the provision if he builds this small fortune to $200,000 within a period of one year, he will receive one million dollars. His time is up at midnight and he has not the required amount.

In order to build this $200,000 to $300,000 Monty purchased a hotel high in hills and opened up a health resort. He put his entire capital into this business thinking it was a paying proposition. It was until the summer of 1929 when a board of appraisers has placed a value on the hotel at $20,000 with the provision that if the spring starts flowing it would be worth $30,000. It has not rained in this locality for four months and it looks as if Monty is to lose his millions. Everything depends upon it raining.

Vitrol adds humor to story by bringing over the cow and trying to collect for her. Jerry and Martha, the former owners of the hotel, like Monty very much and try to get their daughter, Nellie to marry him. This together with the introduction of Reggie, a close friend of Monty, helps to add humor to the plot. Elmo, the constable, who will get the fortune if it does not rain appears ready to take over the estate.

This play promises to be one of the best plays of the season. There will be no reserve seats. Prices are very reasonable being only 15 and 35 cents.

Are You Ready

When your Children Cry for It

Baby has little upsets at times. All your care cannot prevent them. But you can be prepared. Then you can do what any experienced nurse would do—what most physicians would tell you to do—give a few drops of plain Castoria. No sooner does baby feel soothed; relief is just a matter of moments. Yet you have saved your child without use of a single doubtful drug; Castoria is vegetable. So it's safe to use as often as an infant has any little pain you cannot get away. And it's always ready for the crumbly pangs of colic, or constipation, or diarrhoea; effective, too, for older children. Twenty-five million bottles were bought last year.

BARGE CANAL ACROSS STATE IS PREFERRED

YANKEETOWN, Fla., March 19.—Agitation for a ship canal across Florida is hardly justified by present conditions and may interfere with projects much more likely to be undertaken by the federal government, in the opinion of A. F. Knotts, mayor of this city and president of the Florida Inland and Coastal Waterways Association.

"So much progress has been made in the direction of a Florida link between the intracoastal systems of waterways, extending from Boston to Miami on the east and from Pensacola to Corpus Christi on the west, that, in my judgment, it would be unfortunate to introduce any other undertaking into the program at this time," Mr. Knotts said.

"Connection of the Atlantic and the Gulf intracoastal system, which will be afforded by the pending cross-Florida canal, would bring to this state cargoes from along the routes of both and from the Mississippi valley and interior areas, served by other waterways improved by the United States. Laterals connecting with the Florida canal, easily constructed, would carry these cargoes to many inland points in this state.

"On the other hand, a ship canal, if found practicable, could only carry tonnage from and to deep water seacoast harbors. For this reason, the barge canal across the state, advocated by the Florida Inland and Coastal Waterways Association, appeals to me as better adapted to our existing situation and needs. Authority for engineering and location surveys of this link connecting the intracoastal waterways, given in the Drape bill now awaiting action by congress, will assure early and favorable consideration by the war department. I am confident, hence it seems to me that our energies should be concentrated on effort for the passage of the Drape measure, through neither myself nor the association I head will oppose the suggestion of ship canal."

Women's State Tourist Contest Soon To Be Staged

By FRANK E. PHILLIPOTT

What promises to be one of unusual interest will be a women's state tourist contest to be staged at the shuffleboard courts at a date yet unannounced. For the past few days an unusually large number of women have been seen practicing the fascinating game, and it is now hinted that when the tourney gets under way, surprises will be galore. Referees and scorers will be men from various states.

Plans are being considered in regard to the formation of a junior shuffleboard club. If they materialize, the youths will be given certain courts on designated days. This movement undoubtedly will meet with the hearty approval of young people who have signified their desire to join the club.

The St. Petersburg shuffleboard club has 74 courts and over three thousand members. To emulate their worthwhile construction program, the St. Cloud shuffle club will build the ninth court in the immediate future, according to announcement just made by club officials.

JESUS TEACHING AND HEALING

Matthew 15:21-31

Rev. Samuel D. Price, D.D.

An unusually large amount of related material is to be found in the context, so read from Matthew 13:53 to 16:12. John the Baptist was beheaded in the Macherus prison, the multitudes were fed and Jesus walked on the sea as He came to the storm-tossed disciples on Galilee. This period marks the climax of His popular favor. Thence special schooling is given in the Training of the Twelve for their work after His departure. When Jesus would not become the bread-making king for the people many turned against Him. This was one reason for seeking retirement in the parts of Tyre and Sidon, just north of Galilee. The upper portion of this area is now under French mandate.

Usually we are entirely unconscious of the hidden misery, so close at hand, as we journey along the highway of life. Real tragedy is within many home circles and these problems are both real and vital. While Jesus sought to remain incognito He was soon recognized. It is only about forty miles from Nazareth to Tyre and Sidon is twenty miles further north. This Canaanitish woman had a beloved daughter that was possessed by an evil spirit. For a study of this kind of ill, turn to "Demon-Possession and Allied Themes" by Nervous, a veteran missionary to China. As the mother learned of the presence of this miracle-worker she knew that the opportunity of a life-time had come. She literally dogs the steps of Jesus as she cries out for help.

An important item right here is to note how personally this case is met. It is always that way on the part of Jesus Christ. No individual is lost in the mass, no matter how many billions are in the world at large. The disciples are ready to follow the line of least resistance and want the woman to be rebuked into silence. Jesus restates that His primary mission is to the Jews. He had instructed His disciples to hold steadfast to this and had even spoken against helping the Samaritans. Later the disciples, and all others, were to learn that the mission of service was to be forever worldwide.

Mother does not question the general plan of the stranger but she does acclaim Him as David's greater Son. She takes up the word "dog" that she has been called and claims that even these despised scavengers get the crumbs and now she is asking for that which will not hinder a blessing coming to any one of the Chosen People. She has laid hold on Him by exercise of her faith and she will not let Him go. She is rewarded because of just this faith, rather than because of her repeated askings. Her beloved child is healed. In your own thinking picture the return to the home where mother is able to clasp a healed daughter to her very heart. But, because of this publicity, Jesus must go on His way without further rest that was sorely needed.

On His return to Galilee crowds throng Him again, and bring all kinds of sick people to be healed. The crowd might talk against Him but they were very ready to receive any blessing that came from Him. Here was a field clinic and no case was beyond His power to effect a perfect cure. While the multitudes wondered, some at least, "glorified the God of Israel." In view of all that Jesus did and can still do there is rich appeal in the Golden Text, "Ask, and it shall be given unto you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you." Matthew 7:7. Intercessory prayer is a boundless mission for every one who is ready to exercise faith in the Son of God.

COMPARE VALUES BEFORE YOU BUY AN AUTOMOBILE

Low charges for distribution of the new Ford save you at least $50 to $75 in addition to the many savings in making the car

THESSE are days when every dollar counts. The period of reckless spending is over. People are going back to the good old-fashioned principles of thrift and economy. Value is again being carefully considered.

Nowhere is this more important than in the selection of an automobile. For the purchase of a car represents a considerable investment. It should not be decided on hurriedly, but only after analyzing every important factor that concerns cost, value and performance. The time to do this is before buying—not afterward when it is too late.

ON THE basis of cost, performance and the actual comparative worth of every part, the new Ford is a value far above the price you pay. It is made of better materials and with greater care and accuracy because of the recognized efficiency and economy of Ford manufacturing methods.

The value of these methods is known and understood by millions of people. It is not generally realized, however, that these same principles of efficiency and economy are applied also to every step in the distribution of the Ford car. The low cost of selling, financing time payments, etc., means a direct saving to you of at least $50 to $75 in addition to the money saved by Ford economies in making the car. Here are three reasons why this is so.

(1) The Ford dealer does business on a smaller margin of profit because of the greater number of cars he sells. His discount or commission is the lowest of any automobile dealer. The difference in your favor, ranging from 25% to nearly 50%, comes right off the price you pay for the car.

(2) The Ford charges for financing are low.

(3) No expensive extra equipment is needed when you buy a Ford. The car leaves the factory ready for use. The f.o.b. price includes a Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield and an extra steel-spoke wheel, in addition to four Houdaille double-acting shock absorbers and fully enclosed four-wheel brakes. Any accessories you may wish for your individual taste are sold considerably below the usual prices. None of these charges for selling, financing or accessories is marked up or increased to cover a high trade-in allowance on a used car.

Get all the facts, therefore, before you buy and figure out just what you are getting for your automobile dollars. Go beyond the f.o.b. price and find out how much more you pay the dealer than the dealer pays at the factory. Analyze the used-car allowance. Compare all charges—item for item—value for value.

WHEN you do this you will have a new appreciation of what the Ford Motor Company and Ford dealers are doing to keep down the cost of Ford cars. You will also know why it is possible to put so much real value into the new Ford and still retain the low price. The money you pay goes for value in the car. It is not wasted in excessive costs in manufacturing or selling.

Stand By the Colors!

(Paid Political Advertisement.)

There have been two general political factions in the town for some time past. There is, first, the organized ring in power at the present time. This ring plays practical politics and plays it well. The policies of this ring are well shown by its record, which represents extravagance, high salaries, unnecessary political jobs, business incompetence and general waste. There has been no institution in the town organized or carried on for the general public good which has received its support or has failed to receive its knocks. This ring is political pure and simple and the real promotion of progress is unknown to it. It is a cancer in the city which means rot and decay and discouragement.

Opposed to this ring are the rest of the people, the majority, unorganized. They have a common wish or cause—to get rid of the cancer—but being unorganized they work at cross purposes and throw away energy and votes.

I have been consistently working for this cause regardless of who the particular representative or candidate might be, believing that the success of the cause was more important and above any and all personal likes and dislikes as to particular candidates.

A good number of my friends urged me to become a candidate at this time. I agreed and made my announcement. I let it be known at the same time and also later, on a number of occasions, that I did not wish to force myself upon the voters and that I would be bound by a generally called meeting of the workers for the cause. I made the suggestion myself, for the calling of such a meeting. No meeting was ever held and no other candidates were brought forward and qualified. I now repeat (and it is not too late) that I will be bound by such a public meeting, upon the single condition that the party selected as a candidate has no record of participation in ring affairs or is a late deserter from the ring simply to run for the office. Or, if it is considered too late, and the workers stand together and elect me, I will be bound by such a meeting after election and resign, if requested by it, with no conditions attached.

I sincerely urge all of the advocates of this cause to stick together at this time when a victory is in sight. We won a partial victory last fall and at this time, by a united effort, the cancer can be removed. If we split our votes, for personal reasons or favorites, we are going to lose our chance for some time to come.

Opposed to me are five candidates for mayor, all of whom are now or have been until recently active workers with the ring, carrying out its policies of waste, plunder, incompetence and obstruction. All have held paying positions and four have become disgruntled and are now selfishly seeking the votes on the other side.

Two of these men, only recently, held down useless and unconsolidated positions for a long time as special policemen at city hall, doing absolutely nothing and for no reason whatever except to draw their political graft pay from a bankrupt city. Now both of these men come out on platforms of economy, making astounding promises. One even goes so far as to offer his property that HE will save the city a certain amount of money. He says "These pictures are something I have never heard of before and I doubt if such a pledge was ever made in writing in the world." He is right. They ARE silly. As the mayor has only one vote in five on the city commission, the voters are entitled to ask the old question: "You and who else?"

While these men were accepting this political graft pay from the city, the ring was absolutely refusing to give one penny to the upkeep of the library, as had been the custom in the past and is the custom in most cities. The library is in a leaking condition and this means decay. The water has destroyed many books. The repairs badly needed at once have been estimated to cost $125.00. Ladies of the town have been working faithfully to raise the money necessary to preserve the library and keep it running. Can anyone expect much assistance along that line from a candidate who openly states that he is not in favor of the public maintaining schools above the eighth grade? Every week, dozens of our visitors, dozens of our citizens and dozens of our little children go to the library to read and to take out books. Unfortunately, these little children cannot vote.

I have very little property in the city. In fact the assessments of myself and of the family total less than $4,000. Some of you may try to smile and say I am lucky. I don't exactly agree with that, for, if our cause is successful, I can see a great era of general good and prosperity in the city.

The very fact that I own little property ought to put it out of the question that I have any private real estate or personal interests to serve in becoming a candidate. Ponder on that statement well, Mr. Voter.

After a careful study of the requirements of the new city charter, I have come to the conclusion that the salary of the mayor of the city should be cut down to one-half of the amount paid at the present time. I believe that figure would be fair, square and honest and I will so vote if elected.

I am for economy and the prevention of extravagances and waste but I am not betting my property that I, alone, can or will do any particular thing. It takes at least three votes to pass a motion. I will simply do my best.

I am opposed to any reduction in the force at the light plant. I would never vote for such a move unless I was shown that the Board of Fire Underwriters did not consider it as affecting the safety of life and property and the fire insurance rates.

I believe that the successful operating of the publicity commission means more to this town than any other thing since it was founded. I agree with the speaker of last Monday night that the only sure way to permanent reduction taxes is to build up the population.

This is a sadder city and I believe that the sadder and auxiliary organizations should receive all possible aid, encouragement and cooperation from the city administration.

Again I earnestly appeal to all workers for the cause to stand by the colors at this critical time, not only to vote but to work for victory.

C. M. COOKE

NON-VOTING PROPERTY OWNERS MEETING OVERFLOWED G. A. R. HALL

measure a part of America's institutions. It is an honor to be a mayor of any city.

As regards the commissioners, it is an honor to be a commissioner of St. Cloud, and it makes no difference whether the salary of the mayor is too much, or whether the salaries of the commissioners are too much, but at this time when St. Cloud is just snowed under by financial obligations, the question is, whether these salaries be large or small, can the city afford to pay them?

Reduce Valuations

A reduction of an assessed valuation of property to its actual cash value. That, I believe, is about the words in the city charter. Now, you say, how are we going to do that? We are going to do just that, for the city charter calls for it. There may be some here tonight who possibly think that is rather a dangerous procedure. I am not here to discuss how this debt was accumulated. I am not here to accuse anybody of keeping it where it is, or not dissipating it. I am not here to accuse anybody for the present assessed values. We are here to tell you that we are willing to reassess it at what the city charter says it should be—an actual cash value. We know that the war created false values. We know that the boom did the same thing, but it is never too late to right a wrong. We believe the time has come to start an adjustment period with our city affairs, and that's another item we hope can be righted for you, the city, and all concerned.

Not Repudiate Bonds

Now, third, and after all, the main factor of the entire situation—your bonded indebtedness and what it means to our taxes. The bonded indebtedness of your city is after all the greatest burden. It runs into vast money. As to how it came there, I have nothing to say. We feel if the loan were made today that the bondmen would give that loan for a low rate of interest than they did at the time our present bonds were sold to them. Now, you must understand, that it never entered the head of one of these gentlemen to repudiate these bonds, and yet before this association had hardly begun to function, I had a delegation at my house asking me if I was in anyway loaning myself to that body of men who was going to repudiate the bond of St. Cloud. I said, "My friend, let me tell you. So long as I have a voice to ring out, I shall never stand silently by and see the fair and honest name of St. Cloud smudged by repudiating her bonds. Never." We never thought of doing any such thing. My friends, this is a readjustment era. The entire world is readjusting, the war has made that necessary. I wish to call your attention to a thought that should prompt you to want us to undertake to solve this problem for you and the poor and helpless of this community.

UNCONQUERED

By WILLIAM ERNEST HENLEY

Out of the night that covers me,
Black as the Pit from pole to pole,
I thank whatever gods there be
For my unconquerable soul.

In the fell clutch of circumstance
I have not wined nor cried aloud,
Under the bigodings of chance
My head is bloody but unbowed.

Beyond this place of wrath and tears
Looms but the horror of the shade,
And yet the menace of the years
Finds, and shall find me, unafraid.

It matters not how strait the gate,
How charged with punishment the scroll,
I am the master of my fate,
I am the captain of my soul.

It is discouraging to raise a daughter and have her marry a young man who is just about such a fellow as you were when you married.

“Well,” replied the clerk, “I don’t know. But she spells atrociously.”

“Really,” replied the boss, “she must be pretty good then. I can’t spell it myself.”

“Now, James,” said the teacher, “if you father can do a piece of work in one hour and your mother can do it in one hour, how long would it take them to do it together?”

“Three hours,” answered James, “counting the time they would waste in arguing.”

Father: I don’t like to see our daughter lighting cigarets.

Modern Mother: Oh, don’t be old-fashioned, John.

Father: Is that that, she’s too young to be playing with matches.

“You look very downcast.”

“Yes; my wife has been away for six weeks and I wrote her every week and said I spent the evenings at home.”

“Well?”

“She is back now and the light bill has come in—it’s for fifty cents.”

Girl: This is where that young fellow I told you about grabbed me and kissed me.

FRIENDS WHO KNOW!

Our Dear Mr. Editor:

May We Buy This Space and Say a Good Word for a Good Woman

We have with us today an upright citizen—whose life, whose work in the broader field of conscientious human endeavor, and whose deeds on record portray her noble character and unalterable purpose and ability to do the worthwhile whenever and wherever she is given a voice, or permitted to lend her capable and willing hand to service.

We are firm in our convictions that it would be fitting, advantageous, and a fine stroke of lasting publicity and recognition of a person of outstanding qualification to have EMMA E. RAYMOND as a member of the St. Cloud City Commission, the reorganization of which is to be determined by the voters of the city on March 30th, this year of Our Lord, 1934.

BRIEFLY, WHY?

Emma E. Raymond is the loyal wife of our distinguished soldier citizen, John M. Raymond, commander of L. I. Mitchell Post 34, G. A. R., of St. Cloud. This is the second largest G. A. R. Post in the world.

Emma E. Raymond, also, has the distinction herself of being secretary of the St. Cloud Veterans' Association and secretary to the Adjutant of L. I. Mitchell Post 34. She is a former president of the Daughters of Veterans of St. Cloud, the present treasurer, and junior vice-president of the Department of Florida for this organization.

Emma E. Raymond is treasurer of the Soldiers' Home Committee, and a member and treasurer of the St. Cloud Publicity Commission.

Lastly, but not least, she is a good church woman, and is a member of the Baptist church in St. Cloud.

BEFORE SHE CAME HERE—her business, social, religious and patriotic activities and achievements—at every turn of the dial—earned the unwavering regard and respect of all who knew her.

In the early life of Emma E. Raymond we find her in charge for five years of the Auditing Department of Fair's Department Store of Chicago, with as many as 32 clerical workers under her supervision at times.

Then, we find her in the bookkeeping and auditing offices of Sears Roebuck and Company for two years.

After marrying Commander John M. Raymond, she became absorbed in church, fraternal and patriotic endeavors in Chicago, having served several years as president of the Bible Class and corresponding secretary of the Halcyon Street Mothers' Club of the Halcyon Street Methodist Church. She was one of the club's organizers.

Emma E. Raymond was president of L. H. Drury Corps, 290 W. R. C., of Chicago; president of Ulysses Circle No. 4, G. A. R., and of the staff of the Association of the State of Illinois, Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic. The term of those activities approximated a period of 15 years, at the end of which time, with her husband, father and mother, she moved to St. Cloud—in 1923.

In St. Cloud soon she became interested in similar work.

THEREFORE:

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN—VOTERS

OF ST. CLOUD, FLORIDA:

Could we find any more impelling reasons to justify us in joining hands for the UNANIMOUS ELECTION OF EMMA E. RAYMOND to the post she is seeking than the FORGOING attestation to the record and qualifications of the Woman?—A comrade, the soldiers' friend, in the Soldier City of Sunny Florida.

We thank you.

Sincerely,

FRIENDS AND SUPPORTER OF

EMMA E. RAYMOND

For City Commissioner

ST. CLOUD, FLORIDA.
